Where Community is First!

Highland Park Community Foundation

Since 1992, the Highland Park Community Foundation has addressed the unmet needs of thousands of our neighbors by filling in the financial gaps for many organizations that provide programs and services for Highland Park and Highwood residents. Stop by First Bank of Highland Park throughout October to learn how the Foundation is uniquely positioned to maximize the community's resources to provide extraordinary social services, youth support, and cultural programs. The Foundation is committed to helping nurture our children, strengthen families, develop leadership skills and academic confidence in teens, and assist older adults in retaining their independence -- all needed for a better quality of life for our residents and a more vital community. For more information on how you can "Give Where You Live" today and for generations to come, visit Highland Park Community Foundation's website.
