Client Story - Meet Sarah

A vitamin deficiency that led to sepsis and kidney failure kept Sarah Moll, 37, of Murphysboro, IL out of work for three months. Thanks to a $750 Impact Loan, the single mother of three children was able to pay for the items she needed to get back to her job mentoring employees as a Credit Representative and sales associate at Lowe's. They included eyeglasses for vision problems related to her health crisis, a necessary car repair, and childcare. "When there is no alternative, Capital Good Fund is there," she says. "Unlike other banks, they really care." Moll praised Capital Good Fund for making the process quick and stress-free. "I worried they would turn me down, but they gave me an answer the next day," she recalled holding back tears.
